

Information on the processing of your personal data

Art. 13 - GDPR - General Data Protection Regulation (EU/2016/679)

Dear Supplier,

We would like to inform you that our organization is in possession of your data, qualified as personal by the GDPR EU 679/2016, directly provided by you.

In accordance with this standard, we therefore invite you to read the following information carefully.

Nature of processed data : We process your personal and contact, tax and economic data necessary for the performance of existing or future contractual relationships. We are not in possession of any of your data qualifying as particular (art. 9 of the regulation) or of a judicial nature (art. 10 of the regulation).

Purposes of data processing and data retention period: Your data are processed for the entire duration of the contractual relationship and also thereafter, for contractual requirements, following the fulfilment of legal obligations and, for the effective management of financial and commercial relationships. The same will be kept for the time necessary to fulfil tax obligations as provided for by national legislation.

Processing methods: The data is processed using instruments and procedures that guarantee security and confidentiality and may be carried out either on paper or with the aid of automated computerised means designed to store, manage and transmit the data.

Obligation or faculty to provide data: With regard to the data that we are obliged to know, in order to fulfil the obligations provided for by law, failure to provide such data on your part will result in the impossibility of establishing or continuing the relationship, insofar as such data are necessary for the execution of the same.

Scope of knowledge of your data: The following categories of subjects may become aware of your data: Data controllers and processors, our consultants, in their capacity as data processors, to the extent necessary to perform their duties in our organization, subject to our letter of appointment imposing a duty of confidentiality and security.

Communication and distribution: Your data shall not be disclosed by us to unspecified parties by making them available or consulting them.

Your data may be communicated by us, as far as their respective and specific competence is concerned, to Bodies and in general to any public or private subject with respect to which there is an obligation (or a faculty recognised by law or secondary or EU regulations) or need for communication.

Data transfer: The management and storage of personal data is carried out on computer processors owned by and/or at the disposal of the Data Controller and/or third party companies duly appointed as data processors.

The Data Controller hereby ensures that the transfer of data outside the EU will take place in compliance with the provisions contained in Chapter V, GDPR (Article 46), through the adoption of standard clauses drafted on the basis of the versions drawn up by the European Commission.

Your rights: Articles 15 to 22 of the GDPR EU 679/2016 grant you specific rights. In particular, you may obtain confirmation of the existence or otherwise of personal data concerning you and the communication of such data and the purposes on which the processing is based. In addition, you may obtain the cancellation, transformation into anonymous form or blocking of data processed in violation of the law, as well as the updating, rectification or, if you have an interest in such, the integration of the data. You may oppose the processing of your data for legitimate reasons.

We kindly ask you to promptly notify the data controller of any changes in your personal data so that we can comply with Art. 16 of the aforementioned legislation, which requires that the data collected be accurate and, therefore, updated.

If you believe that the processing of your personal data is in breach of the provisions of the GDPR and the Privacy Code, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Data Protection Authority, using the references available on the website www.garanteprivacy.it, or to take legal action.
